

After a health decline, richer households spend more – and die less

ENASEM panel 2018–2021–2024, ages 50+: spending response to a frailty increase, and subsequent mortality, by baseline wealth

Frailty worsened 2018–21 (≥ 0.10) No comparable decline

Source: ENASEM 2018/2021/2024 (INEGI open data). DESCRIPTIVE conditional patterns, not causal estimates: wealth correlates with insurance, education, prior health and access, none of which are controlled by a panel difference. Frailty: reconstructed 21-item deficit-accumulation index (Searle convention) – PROVISIONAL pending confirmation by the coauthor whose index it reconstructs. Spending in Aug–Nov 2024 pesos (general INPC). Wealth: household assets net of debts, 2018.
